MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

Dr. Prabhakar Kore
Ex-MP, Chairman,
KLE Society

The quest for knowledge, insight and wisdom is part and parcel of life. The more we learn, the more we realize that we do not know. A revelation of how much we don't know will continue to motivate us towards learning. In praise of constant learning, Henry Ford, quoted – " Anyone who stops learning is old, whether at 20 or 80. Anyone who keeps learning stays young." Great learning must be accompanied by willingness to listen to others. This is important and should not be glossed over.

Times are changing. People were beginning to realize the importance of ideas and the power of thinking and learning. We need inspiration, not just information. We need passion, not pettiness. We need courage, not cowardice. We reach our destination with discipline and deep thinking, not with alliance and diversion. The discipline of action, although it may give rise to mistakes sometimes, is far preferable to safe and stationary living. Discipline, KLE has discovered, has an intrinsic ability to be self-perpetuating. This discipline is the secret of holistic approach of KLE. Be a proud partner of KLE family. Lastly with quotes of William A Ward, I advise young and beautiful minds:

"PLAN PURPOSEFULLY, PREPARE PRAYERFULLY, PROCEED POSITIVELY, PURSUE PERSISTENTLY.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Prof. (Dr.) Dinkar Gitte
Principal,
KLE Society's KLE College of Law , Navi Mumbai

KLE Society, has been in service of the nation for the last 107 years and is still marching forward tirelessly. KLE College of Law, Navi Mumbai envisions to impart value based legal education with a commitment to serve the society. We aim to build leaders who shall stand for social, political and economic justice. We strive for a society that is Dharmo rakshatirakshitaha (If we protect the law, the law shall protect

WHY KLE?

India is a developing nation and development is determined by the quality of a legal education of a country. We as a country are committed to the rule of law, democracy and human rights, and hence the onus of a legal institution becomes higher in order to ensure the living of constitution in the society. In this process, legal professionals have a significant role to play while deciding the disputes.

Law is a subject which is close to all the aspects of life, and hence it is said that study of law is a life-long process and university education is just a beginning. As law professionals, we have a common experience, that in the beginning of law school, students are determined to work for weaker sections and eradicate inequality and exploitation from the society but eventually they lose the idealism and join forces which follow the same social order. There is no doubt that one can earn infinitely in legal profession by advocating for rich and one should aim to earn as much as possible but not at the cost of non-affordability of quality legal services to the poor and marginalized section.

In KLE College of Law, Navi Mumbai, student will find plenty of law opportunities' not just to earn a graduate degree in law but shall gain knowledge about law outside the walls of classroom and library. The college offers an extensive coursework not just focusing on Academia but on the overall development of the student. Practical aspects of Legal profession and industrial knowledge shall be imparted to the students by arranging International and National Seminars, Conferences, Paper presentations, panel discussions and workshop on research methodology, and webinars on diverse topics of law promoting the students towards interdisciplinary study of socio-legal issues. The college also provides ample placement opportunities for its students through the Internship and Placement Cell to ensure practical application based knowledge along with classroom learning.
